

MASTER OF ARTS PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION AND SPECIALIZATION IN SCIENCE, SOCIETY AND POLICY

The public administration program participates in the Collaborative Specialization in Science, Society and Policy at the master's level. The collaborative specialization was created to enable students to enrich their education in public administration by adding the interdisciplinary dimension of Science, Society and Policy.

The objective of the collaborative specialization in Science, Society and Policy is to provide students with the knowledge and skills needed to evaluate the challenges confronting decision making at the interface of science and policy. Students will have an opportunity to explore how evidence is used in decision-making, how current policies shape the scientific enterprise, and how emerging technologies interact with society.

The programs are governed by the academic regulations (<https://www.uottawa.ca/about-us/leadership-governance/policies-regulations/>) in effect for graduate studies.

Admission Requirements

For the most accurate and up to date information on application deadlines, language tests and other admission requirements, please visit the specific requirements (<https://www.uottawa.ca/graduate-studies/programs-admission/apply/specific-requirements/>) webpage.

Admission to the graduate program in Public Administration is governed by the general regulations in effect for graduate studies.

To be considered for admission, applicants must hold a bachelor's degree with specialization or a major in public administration or in a related discipline with a minimum average of 75% (B+).

Students can only choose the MA with research paper for this collaborative specialization.

Language Requirements

An active knowledge of French and English is essential. All students must successfully complete the course PAP 6502 given in French only and must be able to read texts in French and in English.

Students whose first language is other than French or English must provide proof in their application of their level of competence in these languages (TOEFL test or equivalent). The Public Administration Program reserves the right to conduct an interview and to require a test in either language.

In accordance with the University of Ottawa regulation, students have a right to produce their work, their thesis, and to answer examination questions in French or in English.

Program Requirements Master's with Research Paper

Requirements for this program have been modified. Please consult the 2022-2023 calendars (<https://catalogue.uottawa.ca/en/archives/>) for the previous requirements.

Enrollment is limited to a maximum of three courses/seminars per term, not including the thesis proposal.

The requirements of both the program in Public Administration and the collaborative specialization must be met. The units completed for the specialization count also towards the requirements of the master's in Public Administration.

----------	-----------------------------------	--

Note(s)

- ¹ PAP 6502, offered only in French, is compulsory for all students. Language support is available to those who might need it.
- ² Presentation of a research paper (MRP 6999) carried out under the direct supervision of a faculty member of the Department.

All students enrolled in the collaborative specialization must complete a major-research paper focused on science, society and policy

For more information on the program, please visit the science, society and policy webpage.

Co-op Option

In collaboration with the University of Ottawa's co-op office, a co-op option is offered to a limited number of students in the master's with research paper. This option gives selected students the opportunity to acquire practical work experience by completing two one-term (four months) work placements, normally in the public service.

There are two possibilities within the co-op option. One is to complete the first co-op work placement in the spring term of the first year and the second placement in the winter term of the second year. The other possibility is to complete two consecutive work placements over the spring term of the first year and the fall term of the second year. The eight-month placement enables students to engage in a longer project within the host organization and thus acquire a more valuable work experience. In both cases, students who enroll in the co-op option will obtain twelve units (six units per work placement) for their work experience and co-op reports. Each work term is graded P/F (Pass or Fail), based on the employer's report and on a written report completed by the student. The student reports will be evaluated by a professor in the program (who also serves as the program's representative on the University's coop Committee).

The units awarded for co-op work terms may not be used to obtain equivalences for other courses. In other words, the co-op units are additional to the minimum requirements of the MA degree.

To remain enrolled in the co-op option, students must:

- maintain full-time status;
- maintain a 7.0 grade point average;
- obtain a passing grade for each work term.

Research Research at the University of Ottawa

Located in the heart of Canada's capital, a few steps away from Parliament Hill, the University of Ottawa ranks among Canada's top 10 research universities. Our research is founded on excellence, relevance and impact and is conducted in a spirit of equity, diversity and inclusion.

Our research community thrives in four strategic areas:

- Creating a sustainable environment
- Advancing just societies
- Shaping the digital world
- Enabling lifelong health and wellness

From advancing healthcare solutions to tackling global challenges like climate change, the University of Ottawa's researchers are at the forefront of innovation, making significant contributions to society and beyond.

Research at the Faculty of Social Sciences

The Faculty of Social Sciences represents a place of excellence in knowledge creation, research and training. Driven by both disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives, research at the Faculty is rich, innovative and varied, contributing to the depth of understanding and breadth of discussions on a variety of issues nationally and internationally. This research, whether it be fundamental, theoretical, applied or action-oriented, is generated by our renowned expertise, ultimately culminating in applications designed to influence individual communities and the betterment of society.

We have identified five research themes which collectively represent a large proportion of the research undertaken at the Faculty of Social Sciences:

- International Studies
- Francophonie
- Public Policy
- Health, Well-Being
- Justice, Society
